STUDY TOWN'S PROGRAM FOR RECREATION

The joint committee from the school board, town council, youth council and present recreation board met Tuesday with Merritt Nelsen, graduate student of the University of New York city, to discuss the possibility of Nelsen's becoming a year-around recreation director for the borough.

No final action was taken, but Dr. Dwight F. Putman, of the joint committee, said that the group was favorably impressed by Nelsen who completed today his work for a master's degree in community recreation and who during World War II was a bomber pilot in the air force.

Final action depends on working out a proposal for the setting up of a recreation board for the town to handle activities throughout the year. The present board is set up only to manage the playground during the summer months.

Elks Donate $500
A meeting will be held possibly within the next ten days of church councils and boards, representatives of the local Religious Laymen's Association and others to discuss the church's part in financing and aiding the program, Doctor Putman said. The date for the meeting will be announced later.

Borough council and school board have already taken an interest in the project and the local Elks club has donated $500, Doctor Putman said.

When the joint committee met Tuesday in the offices of Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit, center square, the group decided to continue efforts to coordinate the activities of various recreation programs projected for the community.

To Seek Incorporation
Several meetings have already been held with the group at present backing the Junior Police and planning eventually to construct a large recreation center with baseball diamonds, a park and the like and eventually a community center in some central location.

William "Johnny" Knox, of that committee, also expressed a desire on the part of that group to cooperate with the joint committee provided a working arrangement can be made between the two.

The group seeking to establish a park and community center has drawn up articles of incorporation as a non-profit organization but is holding up asking for incorporation for several weeks to determine the possibility of the two agreeing on an overall program.

AMAZES CROWD WITH GUN SKILL

Wilbur Cox, Remington arms marksman demonstrated Tuesday evening to the satisfaction of a crowd who saw him that there is no difficulty in hitting what you are shooting at.

But more or less "amateur" shooters would be hard put to follow his example.

Demonstrating gun skill at the high school playground, the expert rifleman "drew" a picture of an Indian chief in a feathered headdress with 22 bullets fired into a cardboard target, exploded oranges, potatoes and cabbages with startling regularity, blasted a orange at 1,000 inches while his back was to the target, aiming by using a mirror, and hurled five clay pigeons into the air by hand, blasting them all before they returned to earth.

He demonstrated how to get rid of unwanted wooden blocks—simply by hurling them into the air and then hitting them time after time with rifle shot to drive them far away. He demonstrated how to pick up an unloaded shot gun, load it and hit a target that was hurled into the air before he had touched the gun, and as an extra sample of skill hurled two clay pigeons into the air, shot one of them, shot the ejected cartridge case and then blasted the second "bird."

Sponsored by the Adams County Fish and Game Association the demonstration attracted a large number of men and boys who applauded frequently when Cox scored what seemed "impossible shots." The demonstration was cut short to permit a softball game when members of the softball teams or audience shouted for the demonstrator to get off the field.

Seek To Push Turnpike Through To Illinois Line

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—Pennsylvania's turnpike, a 160-mile stretch of highway linking Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, could be extended to Indiana's western state line under legislation before the Senate today.

Commissioners Vote 2-1 To Build New Jail On County Home Property

The Adams county commissioners this morning voted 2 to 1 to build a new jail on the county home land north of here, fronting on the Biglerville road.

That action placed the commissioners back to where they were last March when bids for a new jail were opened and rejected by the commissioners as being "too high."

Commissioner J. Arthur Boyd, in his motion that the county build a new jail, said that the commissioners in asking bids for a new jail in 1942, which were later halted because of the war, and in asking for and rejecting bids for a new jail in March were "acting as commissioners in the county and for the county. Now we are acting under compulsion. Our old jail has been condemned and we must do something."

Repairing Old Jail Costly

Boyd added: "I feel to do anything at the present site would be a waste of the taxpayers money. We called in contractors to go over the jail with a Welfare department inspector. They told us it would cost $65,000 to merely repair the jail so it would be safe; they told us it would cost between $100,000 and $125,000 to put a new cell block at the present jail site. Our third course is to build a new jail. The bids we had a few months ago came to about $135,000. I feel that the best thing we can do for the taxpayers now and in the future is to build a new jail. The old jail stood 97 years and what we are building may last another 100 years."

Use Prisoners In Field

"If we build on the county home farm site we will be able to use our prisoners for labor in the fields and thus cut down the overhead. I move we ask for new bids under the same terms as were asked several months ago."

Commissioner President George P. Taylor seconded the motion. On a call for those in favor Boyd and Taylor voted "aye." Quintin D. Rebert did not vote. He also did not vote on the call for those not in favor, but later, after conferring with Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit asked that the vote be changed to show him voting against the proposal rather than abstaining from voting.

Oppose Building Jail Now

"I want to vote against the idea of building a new jail at the present time," Rebert said, "but I want to make clear that I respect the view of the majority of the commissioners even though I do not agree with it. I don't want you to think that I am going to do everything possible to stop construction of the new jail, however. I am a businessman and now that the matter has been decided I will work along with you in the work of building the jail. But I want to make it clear that I do not favor building a new jail at this time."

This afternoon the commissioners were in Harrisburg meeting with the State Department of Welfare to determine whether the department will approve transfer of Adams county prisoners to the Dauphin county jail in the near future and to determine whether the present jail can be used as a place of detention overnight while the new jail is being built.

Responsible For Prisoners

Both of the commissioners who voted to build now said they were "just as opposed as Mr. Rebert is to building a new jail at the present time. We feel that the price of the structure is too high. But there is nothing else that can be done."

The commissioners were told a week ago by Department of Welfare officials that the jail was unsafe and that they were responsible for anything that might happen to the prisoners. It was pointed out to them that ordinarily if anything happened to a prisoner such as death by fire or the like the commissioners would be responsible under civil suit for damages. However, the Welfare department said, once the commissioners were warned that the jail was unsafe they could be held on criminal negligence charges if anything happened. For that reason the commissioners are seeking to place the prisoners elsewhere until a new jail can be built, President Taylor pointed out.

Ask Bids By July 9
The commissioners also voted to ask that bids for the new jail be submitted on or before July 9 for opening.

The same plans, and same site, formerly proposed will be used as basis for the bids. An alternate bid will be permitted with a block of eight cells less than the 36 asked for in the proposed new structure.

In that way, Architect Alfred Hamme said the commissioners might be able to save $20,000 in construction. While the additional block of eight cells could be added later, possibly in about five years, it might be possible to secure approval of a new jail with a smaller number of cells. That matter also was presented to the Welfare Department this afternoon.

Asked whether it would cost less five years from now to build a new cell block of eight cells than to have it constructed now, Hamme answered, "It's a gamble. I don't know. I only put in that way so that if the county wishes to spread out the cost it can. Possibly, five years from now it might cost $25,000 to $30,000 to put up the addition. Perhaps it will cost less."

Every Adams countian should attend Flag Day exercises here next Monday evening when annual tribute will be paid the greatest flag in the world.

But the second, and a very important reason, too, for attendance, is to pay tribute to the State Guard unit of Gettysburg (which will be deactivated over the week-end) when it will turn over its flags and colors to the new National Guard troop here.

When the State Guard was organized, following the mobilization of the old National Guard during the war, members of the local unit, all busily engaged in civilian pursuits and contributing their time to the war effort, gave up still more of what little leisure time remained to form the nucleus of another defensive unit in this state.

Under the capable leadership of Capt. C. Arthur Brame the State Guard won its spurs in the state organization and proved a credit to this community. It was ready and willing to serve in any capacity during the war emergency. Now it is folding its tents, having served its ultimate purpose and it will pass into history. (Please turn to Page 2)

tory... another credible military organization.

An appreciative attendance at Flag Day exercises here next Monday evening will demonstrate our appreciation to this mighty fine organization when it bids official farewell to Gettysburg and Adams county.

It is not too late to compliment the Memorial Day committee upon the excellent program it presented here last May 30th.

The committee was handicapped by the late acceptance of the president to deliver the address. Then, due to the unfortunate circumstances surrounding the illness of the president's mother which necessitated his cancellation of the May 30 speaking engagement here, the committee proceeded to formulate another program, and at a late hour.

Selection of the participants indicated that the committee places this observance above party politics or personal feeling. Republicans and Democrats, Protestants and Catholics shared the spotlight. All appeared on the rostrum in equal light with the governor substituting for the president.

That is as it should be. Memorial Day was created to pay tribute to all the soldier dead of all wars regardless of race, creed or color. In Gettysburg this was exemplified in a marked degree. And this because the committee realized and recognized the dignity and sanctity of the occasion. To the local members, is deserving considerable credit and much thanks from this community.

FEPC MEASURE KILLED IN VOTE BY COMMITTEE

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—The issue of Fair Employment practices rested in a legislative grave today following rejection by a House committee of an administration measure to bar job discrimination because of race, creed or color.

"FEPC is deadlier than a doornail as far as the 1947 legislature is concerned," said Chairman Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland) whose House labor relations unit voted 17-8 in a secret ballot yesterday against reporting any job discrimination legislation to the floor of the House.

Setback to Duff

Defeat of FEPC came as a setback to Gov. James H. Duff who labored long and hard to bring the issue to a vote on the floor to fulfill a 1946 Republican campaign platform pledge.

Introduced by Reps. Lewis M. Mintess, William A. Upshur, Jr., Howard M. Henry, Clarence M. Smith and Edwin F. Thompson, all Philadelphia negro Republicans, the measure would have granted a five member Independent commission authority to investigate complaints of job discrimination and issue cease and desist orders against employers and unions subject to court review.

With legislative leaders pushing for final adjournment Saturday, committee approval was needed yesterday if the FEPC bill was to become law.

Called "Bad Politics"

Rep. Upshur, who said he had been contemplating a move to discharge Bower's committee from further consideration of the bill and bring it to the floor for immediate action, explained the plan was dropped because party leaders advised him "it would be bad politics."

The Philadelphia lawmaker added, however, that he would introduce a resolution commending the governor for his intensive—although futile—efforts in behalf of the legislation.

Duff recently told delegations favoring the question that he was completely in sympathy with establishment of FEPC and would do everything possible to obtain action.

MILLION ACRES ARE FLOODED BY RAGING RIVERS

St. Louis, June 11 (AP)—Pouring over at least a million acres of farmland crests of the flooded Missouri and Mississippi rivers headed toward this river city today leaving behind a scene of destruction in three midwestern states.

The Mississippi began to recede at Quincy, Ill., dropping 48 of a foot in the past few hours after a record peak of 23.3 feet. However, Col. W. M. Leaf, district army engineer, warned that the danger was far from over.

He said the crest was nearing the Sny drainage district levee, across from Hannibal, Mo., where some 120,000 additional acres would be affected if the levee gave way. Water was estimated at about six inches from the levee top. Evacuation of the area was underway.

New Breaks Expected

On the Missouri river some 500,000 acres were flooded in the Glasgow-Bonville area where only six levees remained standing—five of which were expected to be washed out at any time.

Farmers near the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers, with the help of army engineers and the coast guard, began evacuation of the area in anticipation of a repetition of the flood last April but the weather bureau here said that the high water in this area was not expected to equal the overflow of 1944.

The Red Cross' midwestern headquarters estimated the number of homeless in Missouri and Illinois at 5,700 with another 16,000 believed to be still washed out in Ottumwa, the Des Moines river valley and other parts of Iowa which have been under water since last week.

Truman Addresses Canada Parliament

"We intend to aid those who seek to live at peace with their neighbors, without coercion or being coerced, without intimidating or being intimidated," the President told the lawmakers.

He promised that American resources would be used to promote world recovery by aiding those who are willing to make "the maximum contribution to the same cause."

Lawver said tonight that the plant has a territory of 27 counties in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia. The local company is limited in its franchise because it operates under the Kramic company of Cleveland which controls the patents on the all-metal awning. There is no direct connection between the Cleveland concern and the local plant, Lawver said, except that the local men have had to obtain permission from the patent holders to make the awnings.

Controlled from inside the windows, the all-metal awnings are designed to give year-around protection, Lawver said. Once placed, the awnings are never removed from the windows. Designed like venetian blinds they are moved to provide the degree of lighting and ventilation desired.

A meeting of dealers will be held at the plant Monday evening, according to an advertisement appearing today, to establish dealerships for the awnings.

Rocks Lose Again, White Roses Win

(By The Associated Press)
The Wilmington Blue Rocks will have to start on an extended winning streak pretty soon or the 1946 Interstate league champions may miss out even on a playoff berth.

The Rocks absorbed a 4 to 2 pasting at the hands of the Sunbury Yankees to slide deeper into the cellar two and a half games out of seventh place and 12 games behind the pace-setting Allentown Cardinals.

The Rocks could muster up only eight hits, one of which was Ed Sanicki's 10th home run of the year, but the Yankees rapped three Wilmington pitchers for 11 safeties.

Sunbury's victory hoisted the Yankees into a three-way tie for fifth with the Hagerstown Owls who lost 9-1 to Allentown and the York White Roses who blanked Lancaster 9-0.

Rowe In Uniform But Not In Game

The veteran pitching ace has won seven and lost one.

CARDS DEFEAT PHILLIES, GET OUT OF CELLAR

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
"One down and six to go!" was the new St. Louis Cardinal battle cry today.

"We've just about found ourselves," St. Louis Manager Eddie Dyer jubilantly exclaimed last night after the world champion Redbirds excavated themselves from the cellar for the first time in nearly two months. The grand and glorious world series winners had spent 51 consecutive days in the National league basement.

The Cards' long awaited rise came about when they defeated the Phillies in Philadelphia 8-3 in a night game to move into seventh place a game ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates who lost to the Giants in New York 3-2.

Not "Impossible" Task
Dyer pointed out they were within five points of fifth place, "and once we get there—which may be after today's game—we will have only four more clubs to overtake. A difficult task but not impossible."

However, the Cards still were seven and a half games from first place as the front running Giants opened up a one-game lead on the field with a thrilling 12-inning victory over the Pirates. Brooklyn and Boston were deadlocked for second place.

The Dodgers lost undisputed possession of the runner-up spot by splitting a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the second game 6-5 after losing the opener 3-1. Boston caught the Brooks by nipping the Cubs 2-1.

Yanks Gain On Tigers
The New York Yankees pulled within a half game of Detroit's American league leading Tigers by defeating the Chicago White Sox 5-3 while the Bengals were being outslugged 9-8 by the Philadelphia Athletics. Boston continued in a third place deadlock with the A's by losing out the Cleveland Indians 3-2 and the St. Louis Browns left the cellar in favor of Washington by dumping the Senators 2-1.

All games were played at night except those in Brooklyn and Boston and in Detroit where a twilight game was the attraction.

Third Baseman Billy Rigney was the Giant hero as the bespectacled third baseman knocked in all his team's runs including the deciding marker in the 12th with a squeeze bunt that scored Lloyd Gearhart from third base. He homered in the fifth with Buddy Kerr on base.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Five Graduated Sunday Evening:
Five graduates received diplomas and twenty-four members of the school received perfect attendance certificates Sunday evening when commencement exercises were held at St. Francis Xavier church for the graduating class of the Gettysburg parochial school.

The Rev. Father Benignus Brennon, of St. Mary's Catholic church at the Paradise Rectory, delivered the commencement address to the graduating class. Members of the graduating class were Evelyn Margaret Gallagher, Virginia Rita Ramer, Corinne Agnes King, Ruth Angela Abell and Leo Donald Redding.

Goes to Georgia Tech: Roy M. Mundorf, South Washington street, has received notification of his election as assistant professor of mathematics in the Georgia School of Technology, at Atlanta, Ga.

Fair-Brown: Miss Martha E. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown, of near Square Corner, and James D. Fair, son of Irwin Fair, New Chester, were united in marriage Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Lutheran parsonage, New Oxford. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. W. M. Allison.

Pretty Wedding at Bride's Home: A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride Thursday, June 8, at high noon, in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends when Miss S. Ethel Pennypacker, of Parkersford, Chester county, and Luther M. Lady, of Arendtsville, were united in marriage by the Rev. A. M. Dixon. Mr. Lady is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram C. Lady, Arendtsville.

Married in Parsonage: John D. Stallsmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi P. Stallsmith, of Table Rock, and Mrs. Stella Carrie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Jobe, of York Springs, were married at St. James Lutheran parsonage Thursday evening by the Rev. J. B. Baker.

Pay Last Tribute: As a final tribute to Hubert M. Linn, of Rockwell, N. C., who lost his life by drowning in the Conewago Creek, near Dick's Dam, Tuesday afternoon, members of the graduating class of Gettysburg college, of which he was a highly respected member, and members of the college faculty stood facing each other in two lines with uncovered heads on Carlisle street Wednesday afternoon while the hearse carrying his body passed through the aisle thus formed.

This tribute followed services in Brua Chapel over the dead man's body conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. B. Baker and the Rev. W. C. Robinson.

Weaner—Plantz: In the presence of a few relatives and friends Margaret Jane Plantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Plantz, near Gettysburg, was married Tuesday afternoon to Edgar William Weaner, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Weaner, Straban township. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. B. Baker, pastor of St. James Lutheran church.

Mr. Weaner is engaged in dairy-farming business.

Bushels of Strawberries: Between 150 and 200 bushels of strawberries were offered at the curb market Tuesday morning by the score of truckers. Prices ranged from 12 cents to 20 cents a basket. At 7 o'clock there was a large supply of unsold berries. Green peas sold for 20 cents a quarter of a peck.

Unveiled Statue at Barlow's Knoll: Under a bright sun, with clouds banked above the horizon, from which later a shower of rain fell, putting an end to the ceremonies, the bronze statue of a young man, wearing the uniform of a major general, was unveiled Tuesday afternoon on Barlow's Knoll, and glowing tribute was paid to that leader of men, Francis Channing Barlow.

Today's Talk

GRATITUDE

Thank you! I know of no other two words that give so much joy in little space. Gratitude is the freest commodity in all this world, yet how few people take hold upon it and use it! There are no figures, compiled by the insurance societies, nor the government, telling of the innumerable deaths from ingratitude.

The kindness and gratitude that Robert Louis Stevenson lavished upon his nurse "Cummy," is one of the most touching tributes of a famous man to one humble in life. From the time that R.L.S. was 18 months old until two months before his death, Stevenson was administered to by this goodly woman. He sent copies of every one of his books to her, beautifully inscribed, as they came from the press. Next to the love for his own mother and wife, "Cummy" was placed. Once he wrote to her: "There are sons who are more ungrateful to their own mothers than I am to you. For I am not ungrateful, my dear Cummy, and it is with a very sincere emotion that I write myself your little boy—Louis."

There are many things that money cannot purchase—and gratitude is not the least among them. Gratitude is something that overflows from the heart, is dipped up and given in return for a kindness or fine turn. On the other hand, ingratitude is something that eats right into the soul.

A friend has told me of a motto that the poet, Don Blanding, had over his fireplace in one of his homes. There were only the initials, but translated into a full sentence, it read: "Lord, I do give Thee thanks for the abundance that is mine." That motto could well be remembered as one to repeat morning and night by us all, each day of our lives.

There are times when my gratitude to God knows no bounds, as I look upon this beautiful earth and view all its wonders, beauties, mysteries, and miracles. In my heart I thank the tree for its shade, the bird for its song, the stream for its joyful laughter, the flower for its exquisite color and fragrance, the sky for its endless abundance. The happiest things in this world are bequeathed to us—"without money and without price."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Keep Discovering!"

THIS WORLD
It's a mad world, and a sad world,
But it often is a glad world,
Filled with joys the Lord intended
All who come to earth to know.
Here are laughter, song and beauty
To relieve the press of duty,
And a thousand charms to thrill us
Wherever we may go.

It's a hard world, and a scarred world,
Now, with hatreds, it's a marred world,
Not the world the Lord intended,
But mankind has made it so.
Greed and selfishness have spoiled it
And with bitter strife embroiled it,
But there never comes a summer
When the roses fail to grow.

It's an old world, grim and cold world,
And a too much "bought and sold" world,
But there still are love and laughter
And the friendships tried and true,
And the wrongs would soon be mended,
Much that's cruel would be ended,
If we brothered with each other,
As the Lord would have us do.

BIGGEST PAY AT NATIONAL STEEL

Philadelphia, June 11 (P)—Two officials of National Steel corporation, Pittsburgh, were the top-paid executives of the nation's "Big Four" steel companies last year.

The company's annual report filed with the Securities and Exchange commission showed that Ernest T. Weir of Pittsburgh, board chairman, and George R. Pink, of Detroit, president, each received $325,400 gross remuneration for 1946. Both figures include $200,000 as share in profits.

The other companies in the Big Four reported these salaries for their top men: Bethlehem Steel corporation, New York—Eugene G. Grace, chairman, $275,000; Republic Steel corporation, Cleveland, O.—Thomas M. Girdler, chairman, $275,000; U. S. Steel corporation, Hoboken, N. J.—Benjamin F. Fairless, New York, president, $154,800.

SALARY BILL NEAR PASSAGE

Harrisburg, June 11 (P)—Legislation to increase salaries of the governor, key elective officials at Harrisburg, members of the cabinet and all judges of the commonwealth moved toward final passage in the General Assembly today.

Pressing for adjournment by Saturday night, the Senate passed the judges' salary bill yesterday, sending it to the House. It provides about an 18 per cent boost.

The executive salary bill, in position for final action in the upper chamber tomorrow, would grant about a 10 per cent increase to the governor, cabinet members and four state elective officials.

Attorney General Thomas McKean Chidsey told a reporter the judges would be eligible to receive the increases under a 1940 court decision. He added, however, that the state constitution prohibits increasing salaries of the governor, other elective official and cabinet members during their current terms.

Under the bill the governor's salary would jump from $18,000 to $20,000 and the lieutenant governor's from $8,000 to $9,000. The auditor general and state treasurer would be increased from $12,000 to $13,500 and the secretary of internal affairs from $10,000 to $11,000.

Salaries of cabinet officers which now are $10,000 would be increased to $11,000, and other cabinet heads would jump from $12,000 to $13,500.

Helpful Tips For Home Builders

NEW USES FOR ASBESTOS MAKE DEMAND HEAVY

The development of hundreds of new uses for asbestos, the strange mineral which can be separated into silk-like fibres, is taxing the ability of mine owners to produce a supply sufficient for all needs, industrial authorities report.

Although asbestos has been known for more than two thousand years, the utilization of the mineral on a wide scale did not have its beginning until 70 years ago, when rich deposits were found in the Province of Quebec, Canada. Today American industry uses over 400,000 tons of asbestos annually in the manufacture of products valued at more than $200,000,000.

Has Many Uses

Asbestos is one of the most remarkable products of inorganic nature. Its long, silky, flexible fibres are capable of being spun, woven, felted or pressed into a wide variety of products. It is probably most noted for its incombustible and insulating qualities.

The name is derived from a Greek word meaning "inextinguishable" or "indestructible" and was applied originally by the ancients to a fabulous stone that was supposed to produce an unquenchable flame when set on fire.

Nowhere else is found such a peculiar combination of qualities as those which make asbestos commercially important in the manufacture of heat and electrical insulating materials, textiles which resist high temperatures, refractory composites, corrugated asbestos cement sheets, asbestos cement shingles and siding and hundreds of other familiar products.

Asbestos shares with coal and sulphur the distinction of being one of the few non-metallic minerals of great use to mankind.

Canada Has 60 Per Cent

Although deposits occur in many parts of the world, the most notable source of the mineral in America is the region around Thetford, in the Province of Quebec, Canada. At present Canada produces about 60 per cent of the world's asbestos, while the U.S. produces about five per cent of the asbestos it uses. Most of the domestically produced asbestos comes from Vermont.

After being quarried or mined, the rock is carefully combed by hand for the longest and finest fibres. In its natural state asbestos resembles bundles of spun glass. This

Rules Against 'Law Practice' By Banks

Philadelphia, June 11 (P)—In a ruling which Judge Joseph L. Kun said will effect all title companies and title departments of banking institutions in Pennsylvania, the Common Pleas court jurist Tuesday enjoined the Commonwealth Title company of Philadelphia from preparing for compensation "deeds, mortgages . . . and other legal instruments."

The suit had been filed as a test case by the Philadelphia Bar association. Judge Kun sustained the contention of the Bar association that the title company in drafting such documents was guilty of the unauthorized practice of law. Morris Wolf, counsel for the Commonwealth Title company, contended such acts were exercised in connection with titles to real estate insured by the banking firm and that the company therefore was within its legal rights.

Yankee Fugitives Crash Road Block

Heidelberg, Germany, June 11 (P)—The sleepy German town of Ludwigshafen was roused by a sharp burst of gunfire early Tuesday as a carload of desperate American soldiers, who escaped Sunday from the Mannheim military jail, broke through a road block established to trap them.

Riding in a stolen colonel's automobile, the fugitives roared suddenly out of a sidestreet and drove headlong at military police manning the roadblock. Four shots were fired at the MPs, who were handicapped by orders to avoid firing inside the town limits.

The number of men in the car was not ascertained, but it was believed to contain most of the six prisoners still at large. Eight men originally fled from the Mannheim jail after shooting it out with guards, but two—one negro and one white soldier—were captured yesterday.

"Mineral flax" is then carded and woven on looms into textiles almost as readily as raw cotton or wool. Many textiles are produced by combining asbestos with canvas, felt or other non-mineral substances. Asbestos fibers are widely used in the manufacture of building materials. Combined with portland cement, they are made into shingles, siding and fireproof board. These products are building, termite proof and highly resistant to severe weather conditions.

DON'T SKIMP ON ROOF, SAY HOME EXPERTS

When planning a new home, it's always well to remember that a good roof is a good investment. That's the advice of building experts, who point out that the roof is one of the most important features of the house. Because of the part the roof plays both in appearance and in providing weather protection, permanent roofing materials and good workmanship will pay off for years to come.

While it is never wise to economize on materials, authorities point out that construction costs can be reduced by keeping roof lines simple. The number of hips, valleys, corners and intersections influence the total cost. A "cut-up" roof requires more roofing material and more flashing, which are the metal protections provided in valleys, around chimneys and where the roofing meets dormer walls. Roofs with simple lines, moreover, are likely to be more efficient and leakproof.

Climate Is Factor
Local conditions must be considered in determining the materials to be used. Many communities have building codes which require fireproof or fire resistant roofs. Climate also is a factor. If heavy snows are to be expected, the roof must be strong enough to hold their weight.

The materials available for roofing include asbestos cement shingles, asphalt shingles, wood shingles, slate and tile roofing and metal. Flat roofs call for built-up roofing.

Among the fireproof roofing materials most widely favored are the asbestos cement shingles, made by combining asbestos fibers and Portland cement. They are stone-like in composition and can be expected to last the life of the building. They are not affected by extremes of temperature nor by any of the common causes of wear. For these reasons there seldom is any need for maintenance outlays, no matter how long the building stands. Asbestos shingles are obtainable in a number of styles and a variety of colors.

Folders Explain

The manufacturers of roofing materials offer illustrated literature describing the variety and uses of their products. A study of these folders will prove helpful to a prospective home builder or a home owner who is considering replacing an old roof. Local lumber dealers are always willing to show samples and they may even have complete roof sections for inspection.

HOME IS SAVED BY ITS SIDING

The value of fire-safe construction materials was dramatically demonstrated recently when fire raced through a lumber yard in Telford, Pa., destroying a 60-by-300-foot building, burning down a home across the street and threatening the city's entire business district. In the midst of the inferno, and next door to the destroyed home, was a residence protected by asbestos cement siding. Although the heat was so intense that it cracked the windows, the asbestos-clad home resisted the fire and it and all its contents were saved.

Eight volunteer fire companies fought the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control. Driven by a stiff wind, the fire showered the neighborhood with sparks. The destroyed home, directly across the street from the lumber yard, was reduced to a skeleton framework. Window framing in the asbestos-sided home was scorched, but the structure was protected from serious damage by its fireproof covering.

Further evidence of the invulnerability of asbestos building materials to fire was found in the wreckage of the lumber yard itself. Although the building was burned to the ground, the yard's stock of asbestos cement siding was found to be intact, despite its exposure to the full brunt of the flames.

The asbestos materials were immune to the flames, building experts explained, because they are made entirely of two non-combustible ingredients— asbestos fibers and Portland cement. Asbestos siding and a companion product, asbestos roofing shingles, have been in use for many years. There are innumerable instances on record where they have saved homes from burning while the buildings around them were being destroyed.

URGE CAUTION IN REMODELING

Remodeling an old run-down dwelling is providing the solution for many persons' housing problems but real imagination and caution are necessary if the project is to be kept within reasonable cost limits.

Sound, practical advice on how to go about remodeling an old dwelling is contained in an article by Will Melgorn in the February issue of House Beautiful magazine which states in part:

"First of all, and before you cast sheep's eyes at any old house with remodeling in mind, learn its state of health. Every existing house is an individual case, of carrying physical worth. Before you even think of buying or remodeling it, learn how structurally sound it is. For this, most persons need an architect's or engineer's help, or both.

Check 'Innards'

"Have foundations, drainage, sills, plates, joists, framing, walls, chimney, windows, roof, gutters, heating, plumbing and wiring systems checked thoroughly. For it is these 'innards' of a house which largely determine its worth. If you disregard them you may spend your life nursing a sickly house.

"Of prime importance too, if you buy to remodel, is the neighborhood and lot. A remodeling candidate will likely be in an older neighborhood. If it is one where stores and the like are already edging out houses, it won't be a satisfactory investment as a home for very long. So find out what zoning regulations exist. There are still protected neighborhoods with outmoded but not outworn houses.

"Livability is the first consideration in any worth-while remodeling. If you are wise, you won't shoot your bankroll on the outside of the house. Restoring an ancient mouldering farmhouse to its original state turning a quaint but

SEND OLEO BILL TO DUFF'S DESK

Harrisburg, June 11 (AP)—The general assembly, disposing of one of the hottest controversies of the 1947 session, placed the oleomargarine issue on Governor James H. Duff's desk today.

The House by a vote of 152-34 passed yesterday the Senate-approved bill continuing regulation of margarine, including a ban on addition of coloring before sale, and imposing a license fee of $2 annually on both wholesale and retail dealers.

Before the vote was taken the House heard renewed arguments on the position of grocery interests that regulation discriminated against margarine and of dairy interests that regulation was necessary to protect the public.

"I think it is the height of absurdity that oleo needs policing," declared Rep. Homer S. Brown (D-Allegheny), while Rep. William J. Yester (D-Allegheny), said "you don't tax lard, cheese or anything like that."

On the other hand, Chairman Charles R. Reagan (R-Union) of the House agriculture committee, said that margarine should be regulated because "it has caused a great deal of racketeering."

The issue reached the legislature after the State Supreme Court recently invalidated a $500 license fee for wholesalers and $100 for retailers but left intact the regulatory provisions of the law. The state Department of Agriculture since has been issuing licenses without charge pending legislative action.

The new bill also would require monthly reports of sales from dealers, and require hotels, restaurants and boarding houses serving margarine to note that fact on their menus.

SHOWDOWN ON TEACHERS PAY DELAYED AGAIN

Harrisburg, June 11 (P)—A final showdown on the controversial teacher pay question apparently was put off today until the session's closing hours as Senate Republican leaders planned revision of a house-passed school pay bill to conform with the upper branch's ideas on the subject.

The Senate GOP majority decided to drop its own measure after putting its provisions in the House bill in an effort to avoid a last-minute stalemate between the two branches through the possibility of both Senate and House standing pat on separate bills and thus making agreement in time impossible.

With leaders pressing for final adjournment Saturday, three of the four remaining legislative days are needed to act on either the Senate or House measures in the opposite branch before any possible agreement can be reached on the session's top issue.

To Amend 417

Disclosing the decision to use the House bill, chairman Frederick L. Homsher (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Education committee and cosponsor of the discarded Senate measure, said necessary amendments are being drafted to bring the House bill—known to teachers as 417—in line with the provisions of his own proposal.

The House measure was passed by the lower branch last week with only five dissenting votes after it was amended there to set up a $1,950 to $4,000 teacher salary scale outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh instead of the $2,400 to $5,400 asked by the Pennsylvania State Education association, the present scale of $1,400 to $3,600, including mandated increments, was set in 1945.

The House measure would mandate up to $2,700 of the new scale for teachers with standard certificates and up to $3,400 for those with degrees with the remainder of the scale designated as merit increment, first payable in the 1948-49 school year. The Senate measure proposed mandated increments $300 lower in all classifications.

Cost Much Higher

The House measure, Homsher said, would cost local districts at least $5,000,000 more than his measure next year and in addition would increase costs $3,200,000 over the $48,000,000 limit fixed by Gov. James H. Duff, mainly due to more liberal aid for vocational education.

Other top developments on the education front included:

Senate passage of a bill to allow Philadelphia to impose a one mill gross receipts tax for school purposes and committee approval of another measure to allow Pittsburgh to impose a mercantile license levy for the same purpose.

Broader Tax Powers

Approval by the House of a Senate-passed measure to establish a state public school building authority to aid local districts replace worn-out and overcrowded buildings.

Court Quashes 40 Indictments; Jurors Illegally Selected

Easton, Pa., June 11 (P)—The complete panel of petit jurors which had 40 criminal cases to handle in Northampton county has been dismissed by Judge William A. Frack on the ground that the selection of the petit jury and the June grand jury was illegal.

All 40 indictments, including the murder charge against Geza Borsos, Jr., 60, were quashed and the defendants were bound over in the same bail for the September grand jury. Borsos is accused of shooting his wife May 9.

At the same time, Judge Frack recommended that the district attorney institute proceedings to remove Jury Commissioners Clarence O. Moyer and Evans C. Miller on the ground they were in office beyond the legal maximum term of eight years.

The measure returned to the upper branch for agreement on a $100,000 appropriation to initiate operations of the authority.

Chairman George Stevenson (R-Clinton), meanwhile, said the Senate local government committee expected to give prompt consideration to a House-passed bill to broaden local taxing powers, especially those of school boards, by permitting enactment of local wage, sales, income or amusement taxes to augment revenues.

Meets Opposition

That measure—strongly urged by Governor Duff—came under criticism from the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce with General Secretary Leonard P. Fox declaring: "While the objectives of this bill may be laudable, its provisions as now written, are vague and ambiguous and are certain to lead to extensive litigation and uncertainty. Rural school districts, whose financial difficulties are most acute, will not find it easy to utilize the taxes authorized by the bill."

A House committee also studied a Senate-passed proposal to establish a state tax equalization commission—also requested by the administration—to determine the market values of real estate for use in calculating individual state grants for education instead of tax assessments as at present.

Payment Due June 16

For those people the total tax they figured they'd owe this year is called their estimated tax.

As noted, the first payment was due March 15. The other payments are due June 15, September 15, and next January 15.

But June 15 is a Sunday. The Internal Revenue bureau makes allowance for that.

Instead of making midnight Sunday, June 15, the deadline for paying the estimated tax, the bureau will allow people to pay up to midnight Monday.

But this is where the problem for some of those taxpayers starts: Congress has passed a bill cutting income taxes this year and sent it

MONDAY DOUBLE DEADLINE FOR INCOME TAXES

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 11 (P)—Monday, June 16, is a double deadline: for several million taxpayers and President Truman.

It's a double deadline by accident, but, just because of that, it may mean a problem for those several million taxpayers.

Here's why: By Monday midnight those several million must make the second quarterly payment on their estimated income tax for 1947.

And by Monday night President Truman must approve or veto the new income tax bill.

The problem of the taxpayers and the answer follow: In 1947 most people will have their full income tax taken out of their wages and salary.

But some don't have any tax taken out of their income during the year and some know they'll owe more tax than is taken from them.

The two groups in the paragraph above—there are several million of them—had to do something special last March 15. It was this:

They had to make the first quarterly payment on the difference between the tax withheld from them, if any, and the total 1947 tax they'd owe.

Then you'll get a refund—if the new bill becomes law—on the tax money you've overpaid for the year. In short: It isn't worth bothering about now. Make your regular payment.

New Jersey is the only state whose governor serves for three years. The death rate from all forms of cancer is about 9 per cent higher for females than for males.

Can Get Refund

But, since anything can happen, there is the long chance that the bill may become law.

So maybe some of those people, who are going to pay their second quarterly installment of estimated tax by Monday midnight, are asking themselves:

Should I take a chance on the tax-cut bill becoming law and cut down on my estimated tax for 1947 when I pay by June 16?

The answer: Don't cut it down. Go ahead and pay your regular estimated tax, whether or not the tax-cut bill becomes law.

If it becomes law, you can cut down on your estimated tax when you make the next payment on September 15.

Or, if it becomes law, keep on making your regular estimated payments right up through next January 15.

Then you'll get a refund—if the new bill becomes law—on the tax money you've overpaid for the year. In short: It isn't worth bothering about now. Make your regular payment.

PURGE WIDENS IN HUNGARY

London, June 11 (P)—Dispatches from Budapest suggested Tuesday that the communist-dominated Hungarian government was widening its purge against dissident elements on several fronts.

The communist newspaper Szabadnag said the "resistance certificates" of nearly 200 persons, including government and church officials, would be reviewed by a special committee under the prime minister's office.

Among those facing loss of these certificates—which indicate that the holders opposed the Germans during the war—were Dezso Sulyok, head of the Freedom party whose newspaper recently was banned; Assembly Speaker Bela Varga, a member of the smallholders party; and Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic primate of Hungary.

Others facing possible loss of their lands if the committee should decide they did not work against the Nazis, Uzabadsag said, were Lajos Shvoy, Catholic bishop of Szekesfehervar; Count Geza Teleki, former minister of education; and Bela Pedanyi-Gulyas, head of the smallholder party's political committee.

BRIDGE BILL TO DUFF

Harrisburg, June 10 (P)—Gov. James H. Duff today received for his signature a Legislature-passed bill increasing from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 the appropriation for a bridge across the Allegheny river between Tarentum and a point in Westmoreland county. The Senate passed the measure finally Monday. Erection of the span was authorized by the 1945 Legislature. The increased sum was asked to finance higher construction costs.
